

MICHAEL ANDERSON

Health Economist

Results-oriented Development Economist with a specialization in health economics and public health policy. Over 7 years of experience working with healthcare organizations and government agencies to analyze the economic implications of health interventions. Proven ability to conduct cost-effectiveness analyses and evaluate the economic impact of public health initiatives. Committed to improving health outcomes through evidence-based policymaking and economic analysis.

CONTACT

- (555) 234-5678
- michael.anderson@email.com
- San Francisco, CA

EDUCATION

Master of Public Health

Johns Hopkins University
2016-2020

SKILLS

- Health Economics
- Public Health Policy
- Cost-Effectiveness Analysis
- Data Modeling
- Stakeholder Engagement
- Report Writing

LANGUAGES

- English
- Spanish
- French

WORK EXPERIENCE

Health Economist

2020-2023

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

- Conducted economic evaluations of public health programs to determine cost-effectiveness.
- Collaborated with healthcare providers to analyze the economic impact of health interventions.
- Utilized statistical software to model health outcomes and economic variables.
- Presented findings to policymakers, advocating for funding based on economic evidence.
- Engaged in stakeholder discussions to promote understanding of health economics.
- Produced reports that informed public health policy decisions at the federal level.

Economic Analyst

2019-2020

World Health Organization

- Analyzed economic data related to global health trends and interventions.
- Developed economic models to predict the impacts of health policies on populations.
- Worked with international teams to evaluate health programs and their economic implications.
- Authored policy briefs that influenced global health funding priorities.
- Participated in workshops to educate stakeholders on health economic principles.
- Monitored and reported on economic indicators relevant to global health initiatives.

ACHIEVEMENTS

- Contributed to a public health initiative that reduced healthcare costs by 15% while improving health outcomes.
- Received recognition for outstanding research contributions to health economics from a professional association.
- Published influential articles on the economic implications of health interventions in peer-reviewed journals.