

MICHAEL ANDERSON

Investigative Economy Journalist

- San Francisco, CA
- (555) 234-5678
- michael.anderson@email.com

Expert Economy Reporter with a rich background in investigative journalism and economic analysis. Renowned for the ability to uncover hidden economic trends and present them in a clear and engaging manner. Skilled in leveraging both qualitative and quantitative research methodologies to support reporting. Committed to delivering accurate and timely information that informs public discourse on economic matters.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Investigative Economy Journalist | ProPublica

Jan 2022 – Present

- Conducted in-depth investigations into economic injustices.
- Collaborated with data scientists to analyze economic data.
- Produced impactful reports that influenced public policy.
- Engaged with community organizations to highlight economic issues.
- Presented findings at national conferences on economic justice.
- Mentored young journalists in investigative techniques.

Economy Reporter | The New York Times

Jul 2019 – Dec 2021

- Reported on economic policies and their implications for various demographics.
- Conducted interviews with leading economists and industry experts.
- Utilized statistical analysis to support article content.
- Engaged with readers through public discussions on economic topics.
- Contributed to editorial boards on economic coverage strategies.
- Participated in community outreach programs focused on economic literacy.

SKILLS

investigative reporting

economic analysis

community engagement

data storytelling

public policy

mentorship

EDUCATION

Master's Degree in Journalism

2015 – 2019

Northwestern University

ACHIEVEMENTS

- Awarded the Pulitzer Prize for Investigative Journalism.
- Increased visibility of economic issues through community engagement initiatives.
- Published influential articles that shaped public discourse on economic policies.

LANGUAGES

English

Spanish

French