

Michael ANDERSON

BEHAVIORAL ECONOMIST

I am a Health Behavior Scientist with a strong foundation in behavioral economics, specializing in the application of economic principles to health behavior change. With over 7 years of experience in research and analysis, I have focused on understanding how financial incentives influence health decisions. My work includes developing interventions that leverage behavioral insights to promote healthier choices among low-income populations.

CONTACT

- 📞 (555) 234-5678
- ✉️ michael.anderson@email.com
- 🌐 www.michaelanderson.com
- 📍 San Francisco, CA

SKILLS

- Behavioral economics
- Data analysis
- Program design
- Public policy advocacy
- Grant writing
- Community collaboration

LANGUAGES

- English
- Spanish
- French

EDUCATION

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN HEALTH ECONOMICS, UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

ACHIEVEMENTS

- Implemented a health incentive program that increased participation in preventive care by 20%.
- Authored a study that was cited by policymakers in health reform discussions.
- Received an award for outstanding research contributions in health economics.

WORK EXPERIENCE

BEHAVIORAL ECONOMIST

Economic Health Solutions

2020 - 2025

- Developed economic models to analyze the impact of incentives on health behavior change.
- Led a team in designing a pilot program that offered financial rewards for healthy behaviors.
- Conducted longitudinal studies to track participant outcomes over time.
- Worked with community organizations to implement health incentive programs.
- Presented findings to government officials to advocate for policy changes.
- Published research in journals focusing on health economics and behavior.

RESEARCH ASSOCIATE

Institute for Health Economics

2015 - 2020

- Conducted research on the economic determinants of health and healthcare access.
- Analyzed data from national surveys to inform health policy recommendations.
- Collaborated with economists to publish findings in peer-reviewed journals.
- Assisted in grant writing to secure funding for health research projects.
- Presented research at conferences and workshops to share insights.
- Mentored interns on research methodologies and data analysis techniques.